

HI-VAC PRODUCTS REBUILD PROGRAM

It is no secret that capital expenditures for new equipment are tightly guarded by companies today. It can take months or even years to get approval for an investment in a new industrial vacuum system. Purchasing a new system can represent a significant investment and it can sometimes be difficult for companies to rationalize that kind of expense.

Equipment rebuilds, on the other hand, are paid for out of the maintenance/operations budget. Companies can quickly see the value in remanufacturing/rebuilding a system versus starting from scratch, and they can generally get the equipment back in much less time.

WHAT'S IN IT FOR YOU?

- Hi-Vac has the experience and expertise needed to renew original performance levels.
- The turn-around on Hi-Vac's rebuilds can be half the time as a new system build.
- The rebuild cost can be a fraction of the price of a new machine.
- The rebuilt Hi-Vac units come with a "new" machine warranty.
